Mission 66

Mission 66 is a systematic Bible-study series that is fast becoming beloved by TWR listeners around the world. This thorough survey of the whole Bible with its clear teaching was first developed by Luiz Sayão of TWR Brazil. It leads listeners through all 66 books of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation. The 613 episodes (396 Old Testament and 217 New Testament) help listeners better understand Scripture, and each 30-minute broadcast ends with a life application capturing the core lesson. Mission 66 gives the unreached a hunger for God’s Word as they grow in biblical understanding and intimacy with God. Pastors who have no biblical training use Mission 66 to prepare doctrinally sound teaching. In addition to the original Portuguese

Global Media Outreach Fund

Your partnership with TWR puts hope within reach for much of the world’s population through radio and a wide variety of digital platforms. You enable TWR to link arms with other organizations globally to assist the Church with sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ. This Great Commission endeavor means teaching through the entire Bible in some of the world’s most-spoken languages, designing programs that speak to the hearts of Muslims, and providing comfort to weary listeners in war zones.

Where local churches do not exist, it might be the only spiritual food available. We are staying true to our calling to put hope in Jesus within reach of as many people as possible, resulting in millions of audience engagements and interactions along with the distribution of radios and Bibles. Your support of the Global Media Outreach Fund is used by God to sustain our transmitters, operations, international leaders, and many other important needs.

The Way of Righteousness

The Way of Righteousness is a radio program that is expanding rapidly around the TWR world because of its proven ability to explain the Scriptures to Muslims. With about 70 languages available or in production for Muslim audiences, it generates great feedback from listeners, including a remarkable number deciding to follow Jesus. Through The Way of Righteousness, non-Christians come to realize that Jesus Christ is more than just a prophet. He is the Son of God who gave his life for our salvation. Your support of this strategic tool allows TWR to channel your gift toward ongoing airings or a top-priority translation for production and broadcasting.

“These Share the Story videos are done so well,” wrote a Muslim man in Pakistan. “I can’t stop watching them. The theme of forgiveness is very touching.” Share the Story is one of three animated video series created by TWR MOTION, in partnership with church planters, to share the good news of Jesus with people groups that have limited access to gospel resources. The church planters share these videos – some Bible stories and some testimonies – on social media to connect with people like this Pakistani man who have spiritual questions. More than 40 church-planting teams are using the videos in 20+ languages. MOTION’s latest series, Journey to Hope, was created to share the gospel with people from a Buddhist background. Ignite Hope With The Better FM

According to Joshua Project, there are more than 2,000 unreached people groups in India – over 95% of the population. In Pakistan, 99% of the population is unreached with the gospel. This massive harvest field is the focus for our new internet radio station called The Better FM that offers vibrant radio features in a strategic language – English. About 125 million people in India and 108 million in Pakistan speak English as a second language. The Better FM’s on-air host shares music, advice, and hope-filled testimonies, and listeners can access a clickable presentation of the gospel and biblical resources. In the first year of broadcast, listeners streamed the radio station over 500,000 times, and 43 people indicated a decision to follow Jesus Christ. Why not listen for yourself at thebetter.fm? Men of Courage

This pre-evangelistic program for Muslim men provides a biblical perspective on life’s daily challenges and speaks to a man’s heart before he even comes to faith in Christ. Men are inspired to reflect on their lives in light of eternity. Languages airing so far are Turkish, Indonesian, African French and Albanian in partnership with Christian men from a Muslim background. One listener in West Africa said, “I thought being a man meant staying in control. But control was breaking my family. This program is teaching me that real

The 52 episodes of 30 minutes each are used in a variety of lengths for FM, web radio, podcasts, and social media.

Every Man Global

Every Man Global comprises a variety of platforms to teach and inspire men to become the husbands and fathers God intends for them to be. Based on the discipleship curriculum Every Man A Warrior, content is being distributed on digital and broadcast platforms, bringing biblical truth to men who need to be challenged and encouraged to follow Christ and make disciples. Currently in English and Hindi, the five- and 15-minute radio and digital episodes are expanding into other languages with your help. God has been changing marriages and families around the world for over a decade through Every Man A Warrior discipleship groups. Every Man Global is multiplying the impact as men hear the powerful messages through media and then find discipleship opportunities nearby. Precious and Beloved

Women in Muslim cultures are not usually taught that they are precious to God or equal to men. Through Precious and Beloved, TWR shares with Muslim women that they are loved and valued by God as his creation and that because of Jesus, they can be free from shame and guilt. This magazine-style program under the TWR Women of Hope ministry features topics such as unconditional love, sin, salvation, and motherhood, among many others. Woven into the broadcasts are encouraging segments of Scripture and testimonies. Episodes are airing in Arabic and African French, and several other translations are in progress. Our prayer is that God’s Word will transform the lives of Muslim women. We hope to reach 20 translations of the program, and your gift will help us get there.

Missionary Partnership Fund

TWR’s missionary staff serve around the world at transmitter sites and studio locations, filling critical roles that keep our broadcasts and program production running smoothly. They serve in engineering, media services, information technology, radio station leadership, finance, writing and graphic design, and more. We have singles, couples, and families with children, and they experience financial shortfalls from time to time, which TWR supplements from our general fund. Designating your gift for our most valuable assets – the people God has called into cross-cultural service – enables us to meet their needs while preserving the general fund to support the ministry’s global broadcast operations. Your gift will be a tremendous encouragement and come alongside an individual or family in need of financial support.

Dr. Luke

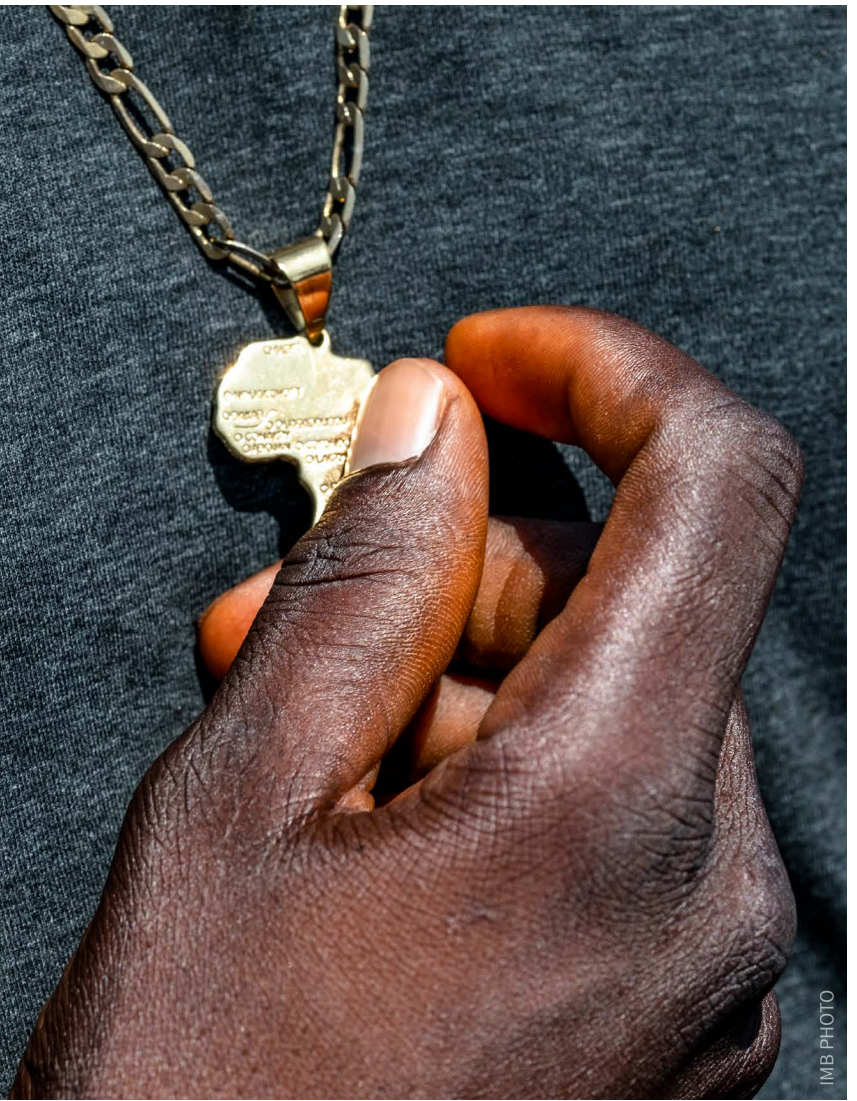

Dr. Luke is an evangelistic health and hygiene program written by a Christian doctor who brings a biblical perspective to life’s health challenges. Over 100 episodes cover topics such as cancer, high blood pressure, diabetes, aging, and heart issues, among many others, making it a great complement to the traditional broadcasts of TWR. Listeners to this popular program indicate that they are better able to make healthy lifestyle decisions physically and spiritually. We would like to continue airing Dr. Luke in the existing strategic languages and produce more translations for countries where health services are scarce.

Hope for West Africa

From TWR's West Africa Transmitting Station, we broadcast programs in about 25 languages from two powerful transmitters, one of which beams programs into Nigeria and the surrounding countries. Nigeria is Africa's largest country by population and a hot spot for persecution of Christians by radical extremists. Youth who live amid poverty, misery, and injustice are especially at risk of getting caught up in extremism, and we are focused on radio distribution and specialized programming for youth and audiences of all ages. Storytelling programs are especially effective to communicate the messages of the Bible. The other transmitter beams programs into regions of unreached people groups that span several countries and are mostly Muslim. A gift toward these broadcasts will help us keep the station running while supporting our local ministry teams producing the programs.

Hope for the Horn of Africa

The Horn of Africa comprises countries along the east coast of the continent, such as Eritrea, Djibouti, Ethiopia, and Somalia. There are many Muslim unreached people groups, and ministry among them is extremely difficult. Somalia, for example, ranks second highest out of 50 countries on the 2025 Open Doors World Watch List of countries with the most persecution of Christians. Sudan ranks fifth highest, and Eritrea ranks sixth. There is extreme poverty with no relief in sight amid drought and food shortages. TWR broadcasts across the region in multiple languages from our powerful station in Eswatini (formerly called Swaziland). The wide variety of broadcasts includes The Way of Righteousness, Women of Hope, Dr. Luke, and programs for

This is just one example of how TWR programs minister to listeners weary of war, and going forward, the Ukrainian team will offer trauma care through programming, seminars, and individual counseling. TWR's ministry associates in Russia broadcast programs on FM stations and the internet. Russian listeners respond from 30 different countries. Especially concerning is the lack of quality education for most Roma children. Imagine their peace when they learn that Jesus loves them and died for them. TWR has been broadcasting in Roma dialects for more than two decades, and Roma churches exist in Europe today because of this outreach. The Roma Discipleship Tool is a set of audio and teaching materials that take Roma Christians deeper in their walk with God. The ministry to children comprises songs for use with animations through which Roma children are learning Bible stories and hearing the gospel. With these tools to enhance TWR's long-running ministry, including the distribution of radios, more Roma are coming to Christ and being disciplined in the Word of God.

Hope for Southern Europe

TWR's Southern Europe region comprises six countries: France, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Greece, and Cyprus. The decline of Christianity in Southern Europe makes it a critical mission field. TWR's leader in Portugal aptly said, "In Southern Europe, one church is planted, and two others close their doors." Many explore spirituality through the thriving occult. We would like to urgently engage with people in the region, especially young people born into a post-Christian society who are searching for meaning in their lives. Christian believers make up only about 3% of the total population. Southern Europe is diverse in history, languages, and people groups, and we

By leveraging these channels, we hope to effectively engage with the people of Southern Europe and share the message of hope found in the gospel. Your gift will help TWR strengthen our digital strategy in Southern Europe.

Hope for Central and Eastern Europe

TWR's Central and Eastern Europe region spans the Baltics to the Balkans, and despite big differences across the cultures, it's certain that most people are online and own a mobile phone. The key to reaching the many digital natives (the younger generation) is to speak their digital language! Listeners build communities online and expect more engagement with broadcasters so they can ask questions about the gospel. Working with our local media partners, TWR is growing our digital strategy by discipling believers and mentoring those exploring faith, including those in the many Roma communities across the region. Our goal is for each national partner to become a top-tier media ministry in its country, and digital platforms will give TWR broader audience engagement. CAT West Arabic Antenna

TWR recently installed an upgraded 750,000-watt transmitter at a Central Asia transmitter site we call CAT West, allowing us to migrate our Arabic broadcasts from older, costly transmitters to the newer, less expensive one. With this newer transmitter and the addition of one broadcast pattern, we can more efficiently reach the Arabic-speaking world. Installing a six-tower array in recent years built our capacity to add broadcast patterns in the future, such as one we began using to broadcast to Ukraine after the war broke out in 2022. Now, with the repurposing of components and antenna modifications, we can add a pattern to reach the Arabic-speaking world. This new transmitter and broadcast pattern

Hope for the Persian-Speaking World

TWR’s ministry to the Persian-speaking world (PSW) includes programming in the Farsi, Dari, and Tajiki languages for Iran and surrounding countries. Programs are aired on digital platforms and from TWR’s newly installed Central Asia transmitter with a clearer, far-reaching signal. The dynamic production team of young adults has created three online radio stations streaming 24/7: one focused on music and worship, another focused on reading the Bible, and a third with a mixture of programming. Future goals include adding languages of Iran such as Gilaki, Balochi, and Qashqai so many more can hear God’s Word in their own heart languages. Outreach to Türkiye

Türkiye is a hostile place for Christians, and those who leave the dominant religion risk persecution. Additionally, high unemployment leaves young adults hopeless about a bright future, wondering about the purpose of their lives. TWR’s ministry partners in Türkiye (formerly known as Turkey) operate FM radio stations in the country and produce daily programming to guide young adults toward hope in Jesus and the answers to life’s questions they can find in the Bible. The testimonies and stories encourage young people not to give up in difficult situations. Türkiye also has a high rate of domestic violence, and Turkish women benefit from the Women of Hope program that lets them know they are loved by God. Israel is a nation of rich ethnic and religious diversity with Jews, Arabs, and other groups making up the cultural mosaic. About 1.2 million Russian-speaking Jews live in Israel, and TWR is airing our existing Russian programs to them while implementing an expansion to additional ministries. Because of the ongoing military conflicts, people are asking difficult questions amid the destabilizing effects of war. Inspired by the book of Nehemiah to build a solid foundation for ministry, we are developing a 24-hour digital media stream for those who are curious about the Bible and want to know more. Listeners will hear cultural news, music, and relevant topics from a Christian perspective. We are also starting Women of Hope for the many women who face challenges such as domestic violence, social isolation, and the psychological and economic consequences of war. Christians in this part of the world live in areas where they can face harsh persecution for following Christ, and radio is a discreet source of spiritual food. When a secret believer in Pakistan traveled tens of kilometers to meet with TWR associates, he shared with a thankful heart: "TWR has been a source for me to know the true Creator and Savior." To continue our ministry, however, we urgently need to upgrade our aging equipment that can no longer produce quality broadcasts. Needs include speakers, mixing equipment, microphones, headphones, and components for podcast content creation.

I have received many blessings from God through you. Thank you for your good work. They are very good messages based on the Word of God. Keep on feeding us spiritually. Greetings and blessings."

Modernization of our equipment will allow TWR to maintain broadcast quality and increase production in the Quechua and Low German languages for a more impactful ministry to the indigenous and Mennonite communities. A missionary told us that while on a trip in Bolivia, a rural man stepped out into the dirt road and stopped the missionary car. He had a little radio in his hand and said, “It’s a radio. Please take it. Fix it! It’s my life!” Your gift will help TWR keep programs of hope on the air for spiritually hungry Bolivians.

been blessed by the project, including businessmen, prisoners, young families, and many others, serving as a testimony to the impact the Bible can have when shared in an accessible, warm, and culturally relevant manner. Printing costs, however, along with logistics and customs fees are an ongoing challenge for TWR’s national partners, who can no longer cover the costs on their own. Your partnership will help us keep Food for the Soul in prisons, schools, barber-shops, bookstores, homes, and many other places to deliver hope where hearts still need to know the comfort of the Savior in challenging times.

If you would be willing to partner in prayer for TWR over the next year, below are some specific requests. Thank you so much!

“Show me your ways, Lord, teach me your paths. Guide me in your truth and teach me, for you are God my Savior, and my hope is in you all day long.” – PSALM 25:4-5
